David A. DuPont, 57, of San Antonio, formerly of Richmond, passed away Wednesday, Oct. 14, 2009. Memorial services will be held 2 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 1 at First United Methodist Church, 1127 Ave. J in Rosenberg.

David was born Jan. 23, 1952, in Manchester, N.H., the son of Roland and Anastasia Zanis DuPont. He graduated from Manchester West High School in 1970, and Keene State College in 1974. After graduation, he taught fourth grade at Hollis Elementary School in Hollis, N.H., for five years. He made a career change to the purchasing of electronic equipment, and then found his gift when he shifted to sales.

Dave and Diane moved to Houston in 1996 to work in the Kent Electronics Corporate office. Later he worked with ADC, Rexel and as a manufacturer's representative in the data and voice industry. He joined All-Tex Networking in 2005, and recently set up their San Antonio operation.

David was a dedicated father and husband, and showed this passion and devotion on a daily basis. He always was supportive and encouraging of his family.

David had a passion for having fun. In New Hampshire, it was snow skiing and motorcycle rides throughout the northeast, called "Lobster runs." He loved soccer; and coached many teams throughout the last 20 years. He taught many kids from the time they were small through the high school level. He loved motorcycling throughout the Texas Hill country, the Smoky Mountains, and Arkansas. His most recent endeavor was the restoration of a Chevrolet 1969 Van, and camping trips with the "Vanners."

He had a passion for teaching, helping and encouraging those around him. His energetic, positive attitude affected others and made people take notice of his presence.

David is preceded in death by his parents, Roland and Anastasia.
