Fred Moore:

When I think of Fred, I think of one of the greatest smiles, low voices, slow talking Style that kept you listening. He was a family man., Very proud of his sons, and devoted to his wife. Like a lot of us a colorful vanner. He was a diehard Ford man, but would help anyone. Until he got sick this last time, he use to build things people said wouldn't work (His Did), I know he helped me with his knowledge. He always had another way of doing something. Fred was a charter members of the elevator tester's. He was a great story teller, he would light up, and tell some of the best story's I ever heard.
